

About California school boards

School boards govern California's nearly 1,000 school districts serving 6.2 million students

1 School board members are individually elected by the community they serve

- Each school district is governed by a school board that is accountable for the performance of schools in their district.
- They represent the community's diverse beliefs and values.
- School board members are residents of the school district they serve and come from all walks of life — doctors, lawyers, homemakers, teachers, architects, truck drivers, professors, business owners, real estate agents and more.

3 School boards serve the community

- Listening to their ideas
- Engaging them in setting the district mission and goals
- Making student achievement a priority
- Advocating on important K-12 policy issues for all students
- Representing the district at community events
- Ensuring accountability for student and district performance

2 School boards govern at board meetings

- Hiring and evaluating the superintendent
- Adopting district policies
- Approving Local Control Accountability Plans
- Adopting and monitoring budgets
- Monitoring district performance and student achievement
- Actively listening to public comments

4 School board members give the gift of time

- Preparing for and attending board meetings
- Responding to constituents
- Participating in board training and development
- Attending community events
